NOTES FROM TEACHER: The past few weeks we are learning about the writing process and going over types of sentences and nouns and verbs. We are learning to read for detail and are becoming familiar with looking for setting and plot in the stories we read. In Social Studies we are thinking about ways we work together at school, home and in the community. In Math we continue to work on subtraction strategies. We are practicing subtraction sentences as well as fill in the blank word problems. We are learning about all sorts of animals and we continue to do experiments on fridays.
