Assalaamu'alaikum,

We continued exploring our senses with focus on "hearing" this week. We listened to Islamic songs and rhymes. We also spoke about the sound of the train that we often hear from our classroom window and other sounds that are not pleasing to ears.

Children did a new activity on the sense of hearing, "Sound, No-Sound" where they sorted colorful cars under the naming cards.

We played a game during circle time to learn the beginning sounds of the children's name. Now most of the children not only know the beginning sound of their own name but also know the beginning sound of the other children's names.

March is the reading month. Please take some time to read to your child for few minutes everyday. Thank you.

Islamic Studies: This week we continued learning about good manners and learned the importance of saying "Thank You, Please and Sorry". We watched Islamic videos and also read some Islamic stories.

EPK Arabic and Quran newsletter

Arabic:

We have been learning about the five senses and their names in Arabic. we reviewed the names of the shapes and colors and the alphabets. The students are observing classroom material and the names of the fruits and animals and what letter they start with. We will spend more time on craft, coloring and continue with reading Arabic stories to change some of their daily routine.

Quran:

We started surat Al-Sharh two weeks ago and continued listening to Surat Al-Nasr, Quraish and the other suras they learned from the beginning of the year.

Learn with Zakariya is a very good Quran website that you can use with your kids to have them review and learn Quran.

Please don't hesitate to contact me for any question or concern.

Have a nice weekend

Respectfully,
Sawsan Mahmoud
